RUSSIAN CHAOS IS NEARING ANARCHY

ELECTION EVE IS SIGNAL FOR MANY POLITICAL CHARGES

Democrats Spring Most Sensational; Republicans Say It's in Desperation at Prospect of Defeat

Republicans and Democrats close their city campaign tonight, and the feature of the closing day is the loosening of charges and counter-charges by the embattled campaigners.

The Democrats today sprung insinuations of ballot-box "stuffing" and primary irregularities, against their G. O. P. opponents. The Bourbons also declare that the Republicans have collected a huge campaign fund which will be used tonight and tomorrow on voters who haven't made up their minds how to cast their ballots.

Unqualified and explicit denial is given these charges by the Republicans. In fact, the outside who has been following the Democratic campaign and heard the statements of various Democratic orators, pays little attention to the assertions, considering them part of the political game.

Republican leaders declare that the Democrats have resorted to allegations of almost unparalleled viciousness, notably in their attacks on E. A. Mott-Smith, who has been charged with ruining banana and taro fields when he was president of the board of health. It is declared by the Republicans that the eleventh-hour charges now voiced by the Democrats are part of their desperate effort to turn the tide in their favor.

Col. J. W. Jones, of the Republican finance committee, made unqualified denial this morning of the freely-circulated Democratic charge concerning a "slush fund."

"It is a deliberate lie and merely shows the widely impossible nature of the Democratic campaign material," he said.

It is a known fact that neither party has spent any large sums in the present campaign. The absence of the "slush fund" charge, a conspicuous feature in the Democratic campaign, has been noted. Last week managers of both parties told the Star-Bulletin that the number of paid party employees is unacceptably small.

Prospects for the Week

Republicans today are confident of winning most of the contested places. They feel sure that John Kane will be re-elected mayor—providing the Republican vote turns out. His majority is variously estimated at from 850 to 1,000 votes. Joe Fern's campaign is said to have been losing ground in the past week and it is known that several of his party associates have asked him to abandon the "fish-and-flour" line of speech, since, they said, it was making the whole party look foolish.

Republicans are also confident that they will win at least the members of the board of supervisors, and Chairman Fogarty says that he is looking for a straight ticket of Republicans elected.

Admittedly the Republicans are worried most over the sheriffship situation. They feel that if the fourth district gives Hopkins five or six hundred majority, he will win, but are doubtful just what the first, second,

Each election night the friends of the Star-Bulletin in the various precincts give very helpful cooperation in telephoning in the count as it progresses, or in many cases, send in messengers with ballots marked up with the latest figures. It enables this paper to give the news to the public quickly and accurately and every such bit of assistance is much appreciated.

The Star-Bulletin's special telephone number for tomorrow night is 2160

Ring up this number if you have any news to send in, or if you are unable to come down town and join the big crowd getting the returns on the street.

The illuminated screen will be in operation as soon as dusk comes. As the ticket is short, the result of the election should be known by 9 or 10 o'clock, perhaps earlier.

If you expect to have good roads for Honolulu and Oahu get out and vote next Tuesday, June 5th. That's all we ask—Honolulu Automobile Club.

Another Japanese Liner Victim of German Submarine

(Special Cable to Nippon Jiji)

TOKIO, Japan, June 4.—Another Japanese merchant vessel was torpedoed yesterday when the Miyasaki Maru of the T. K. K. Line was sunk by a German submarine in the English Channel. The liner was due to arrive at London today.

Passengers on board saw the wake of the torpedo and a few seconds later the passengers and crew took to the life boats and were later picked up by an English sea scout.

$2,658,650 FOR LIBERTY LOAN IS GIVEN BY HAWAII

The sum of $2,658,650 is the amount which the firms and citizens of the Territory of Hawaii had subscribed to the "Liberty Loan" up to noon today and which will be forwarded to the reserve bank at San Francisco tomorrow.

This does not mean, however, that subscriptions will not be accepted after tomorrow for all the local banks have made arrangements with their San Francisco connections to pay for subscriptions up to the last moment, June 15. Tomorrow the money already paid in is to be forwarded and afterwards the amounts of subscriptions will be wired. It is hoped by the banks that by June 15 the $5,000,000 mark will be reached.

The greater proportion of the present subscription has been sent in by the big firms.

500,000 SHARES OF BINGHAM WILL GO ON MARKET AT 35

A cable received today by the Henry Waterhouse Trust Company from W. R. Hubbard, president of the Montana-Bingham Consolidated Mining Company, from Salt Lake City, stated that as result of an agreement with the brokerage house of Evans, Morris & Whitney, 500,000 shares of treasury stock would be sold at approximately 35 cents.

The cable follows:
"The Montana-Bingham directors have entered into an agreement with Evans, Morris & Whitney, largest brokerage house here, with strong connections in the east, for the sale of 500,000 shares of the treasury stock at an average price of 35 cents. This brokerage firm has had an expert examination made of the property and are enthusiastic over the entire proposition."

"A 300-ton per day flotation plant is now under construction and will be in operation in about sixty days. An electric haulage is being installed in the big tunnel and all water flowing from the tunnel has been sold to the Denver & Rio Grande railroad for its purposes. Roperwell and McConaughy, principal owners of the Conger mine, have become financially interested in the company."

"The development and production will be pushed vigorously."
"The acquisition of the Fortuna mine for the sum of $300,000 was a splendid buy for Montana-Bingham as this is a wonderful property."
"A cablegram was also received from Evans, Morris & Whitney in which it was stated that the company does not intend to place any stock on the market under 50."

625,000 In First Draft

(Associated Press by U. S. Naval Communication Service)
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 4.—The war department plans to draft 625,000 men for immediate service, from the registered lists as they will stand tomorrow. The extra 125,000 men to be drafted under this selective system are needed to fill vacancies due to casualties and sickness.

MEDICAL CAPTAIN IS ILL WITH DIPHTHERIA

Capt. Lauren S. Eckles, Medical Corps, has been sent to the department hospital at Fort Shafter with diphtheria, according to word coming from Schofield Barracks. It is understood that Captain Eckles contracted the disease as the result of an operation upon a patient a few days ago.

STUFFING OF BALLOT BOXES IS CHARGE MADE BY BOURBONS

Attorney-General is Called Upon By Democratic Leaders to Probe Finding of Block of Unused Ballots Near Party Headquarters on Night of Primary—Clerk, Kalauokalani Fails to Throw Light on Checking Puzzle

On the eve of the general election, charges that the primaries were irregularly conducted, and intimations that there was a "stuffing" of ballot boxes, are emanating from Democratic headquarters.

"It appears to me that there is something wrong somewhere," said Attorney-General I. M. Stainback, who declares he has not yet had a reply from Clerk David Kalauokalani as to whether the returned ballots checked up correctly with the number given out prior to the election.

The story given the Star-Bulletin today by L. L. McCandless and W. A. Bryan, Democratic managers, is this: At 11:45 o'clock on the night of the primary election of May 19 one of the Democrats found a block of 32 unused official ballots outside Bourbon headquarters in the Collins building, King street.

He immediately informed McCandless and Bryan of his find and they, with two others, gathered up the ballots and sent for the attorney-general. Mr. Stainback arrived at Democratic headquarters at about 12:30 a. m. The ballots were turned over to him, sealed and witnessed by McCandless and Bryan.

"We then requested the attorney-general to ascertain from what source the ballots came," said Mr. Bryan, "and he said he would undertake to do this. We want to make it plain that within 45 minutes after these official ballots were found, they were in the hands of the attorney-general. Bourbons Seek Reason

It is claimed at Democratic headquarters that if these ballots did not come from the official list, they were extras, and the Bourbon candidates want to know why, if they were from the official list, they were thus scattered about.

That ballots are now looked in the safe of the attorney-general. He said today that immediately after they were placed in his hands, he wrote to Clerk Kalauokalani asking him for a statement on the final checking up of the ballots. He added that Kalauokalani had not replied.

This morning Democrats, including Mr. Bryan, went to Mr. Stainback and again asked him to secure a statement from Kalauokalani. A letter was written to Kalauokalani, but up to noon the county clerk had not replied.

Attorney-General Stainback says that, from the fact that these extra ballots were found, there might be evidence of "stuffing" the ballot boxes, although he admitted he was at a loss to understand where the official ballots could have come from.

ULUIHI FAVORING FRONTAGE-TAX LAW

Jessie Uluihi, Democratic candidate for supervisor, stands by the frontage-tax law and the Democratic county platform endorsing that law. He emphasizes this in a letter to the Star-Bulletin, in response to the query sent by this paper simultaneously to all of the Democratic supervisory candidates.

His letter says:
"Honolulu, T. H., June 2, 1917.
"Riley H. Allen, Esq.,
Editor of the Honolulu Star-Bulletin.
"Dear Sir: In replying to your letter of inquiry as to how I stand on the frontage-tax law, I herewith enclose a copy of the Democratic platform, and I stand on that platform and nothing else."
"Yours very truly,
"JESSE ULUIHI."

He encloses a copy of the platform. The frontage-tax plank has already been published in the Star-Bulletin. Of the seven Democratic candidates, five—McCandless, Petrie, Benevides, Makinani and Uluihi—have now answered the Star-Bulletin's inquiry, all endorsing the frontage-tax law. The other two had not been heard from at noon today.

At an inquest this morning over the death of two Chinese, Sul Tuck and Chung Kim Fat, Saturday, the verdict was that both came to their end by roof drop. It did—on them.

Chief Justice Speaks On Boat Clubs' Behalf

Chief Justice A. G. M. Robertson, speaking in the interests of the Honolulu boat clubs and for the salvation of a splendid sport, said this morning: "Boat racing for a great many years has been a popular sport in Honolulu. Since 1883 when the Myrtle Club was organized boat rowing has been one of the established institutions of the community. Rowing and swimming are the exercises best adapted to our climate. While many of our young men avail themselves of the benefits to be derived from membership in the boat clubs, many more might with advantage to themselves participate. The legislature recognized the value of boating as a healthful sport and exercise and sought to encourage it by making Regatta Day a legal holiday. The annual regattas furnish free entertainment for the public, and the boat clubs make no money out of them. It would be a very regrettable thing if the clubs should be put out of existence by being deprived of accommodation on the waterfront. If there is any feasible way of averting such a calamity it ought to have the backing of the whole community."

Chinese Revolt Is Expected to End In Unity

(Associated Press by U. S. Naval Communication Service)
AMOY, China, June 4.—Despite the break of a number of Chinese provinces with the central government, no disturbances have taken place, so far as reported here. An amicable settlement of the present differences is expected.

SHANGHAI, China, June 4.—The Chinese Republican government headed by President Li Yuan Hung which succeeded to the administration of Yuan Shih-Kai is in trouble. Eleven provinces of China proper, and a part of her dependencies are in revolt. A provisional government has been formed. The president is virtually a prisoner and the capital is ringed about by the seceded provinces. "Li Yuan Hung is expected here to resign."

Revolution Widespread
The revolting governments are working in union against the federal power. The overwhelming force against those provinces still loyal to the president has had the result of eliminating bloodshed thus far and reports from other provincial capitals indicate that it is believed the provisional government will attain its ends with not much more than a show of force.

FOREIGN CONSULS ARE FORMALLY NOTIFIED

TIENSIN, China, June 4.—Representatives of the provisional government just formed by the revolted provinces have notified the foreign consuls in this place that the northern provinces of China, including Chihli, of which this city is the capital, that all relations with the central government have been broken off.

Troops are moving towards the national capital, but in hopes of attaining their ends without bloodshed the rebel government does not plan at this time to force a way into Peking. The governor of Fukien, capital of the dependency of Fungien, has commandeered all the rolling stock on the northern rails and is moving his troops towards Peking, but without intention at present of entering, according to assurances given the foreign representatives.

PRESIDENT REFUSES TO SURRENDER AIMS

PEKING, China, June 4.—Peking stands today isolated from the rest of the world with the northern provinces of China for the first time in many years leading in an organized revolt against the Republic. Out of the eighteen provinces of China only three remain loyal to the government. Eleven are actively in arms including the important and wealthy province of Chihli. Acts of the central government are not recognized by the revolutionists.

SAVED BY AID OF PATROLMAN

But for the timely appearance of Mounted Policeman Manuel L. Lopez at a place in Kaimuki last night Manuel Silva might today have been the subject of an inquest instead of the complainant in police court in the cases of Antonio Puentes and A. Dazono, both charged with assault and battery. Puentes was discharged and Dazono fined $3.

Lopez was on his beat about 10:30 o'clock when Charles Mersberg, he testified, told him that two Filipinos

RUMORS THAT WARSHIPS WITH REVOLTERS WOULD APPEAR AT PETROGRAD STIR UP CAPITAL

Ex-Senator Root With American Mission Hastening to City in Hopes of Averting Calamity to Cause of Allies

(Associated Press by U. S. Naval Communication Service)
PETROGRAD, Russia, June 4.—Threats of another revolution against the young Russian republic, and rumors that warships manned by revolutionists might appear in the harbor for hostile demonstrations, stirred the city today to a tense excitement.

A delegation of Russian naval sailors from Kronstadt arrived early in the day and announced that warships from Kronstadt would come immediately to Petrograd for demonstrations. Though excitement ran high and there were various rumors that the vessels were actually coming, none appeared during the day and it is now believed that the threat was the boasting of extremists.

Delegates are demanding new elections to the workmen's and soldiers' councils, denouncing the old councils as bourgeois. They also denounce Minister of War and Marine Kerenky. They say that his abolition of the death penalty—an act done while he was minister of justice—was premature. They also demand that the czar be delivered to them.

Late in the day an ice-breaking vessel from Kronstadt, carrying a red flag, and with sailors singing a revolutionary hymn, appeared at Gutuyeff.

Stores of sulphur and phosphorus on the wharves have been burned, probably the work of incendiaries.

Root Hurries to Petrograd as Dark Shadow of Anarchy Deepens

The Associated Press today carries a brief statement of the movement of the American mission as follows:
"From a Russian port.—Ex-Senator Elihu Root and party have departed for Petrograd."

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 4.—The American mission to Russia, headed by Elihu Root, with the rank of ambassador extraordinary, is now on Russian soil. Last night an announcement was made by the navy department that the commission had landed safely at an unnamed Russian port.

While it had been generally supposed that the commission was on its way to Petrograd, this is the first official notification that Mr. Root and his colleagues had left the United States.

The reports from Petrograd continue to paint a dark picture of Russian national conditions. The anarchists are parading the streets unrebuked, advocating the abolition of all law. The workmen are holding out for exorbitant wages and are refusing to carry on the work of turning out munitions for the men at the front, while one faction of the most extreme radicals is in open revolt against the provisional government.

Advocates Moral Boycott
This faction has seized the great fortress of Kronstadt, the guns of which control the town of the same name, and announced its independence of the central authorities. The seizure was effected on Thursday. Yesterday Minister of Justice Forevezoff issued a statement concerning this phase of the situation, advocating a moral boycott against these counter-revolutionists.

To the correspondent of the Associated Press at Petrograd the minister of justice said:
"The men now in possession of the fortress of Kronstadt should be declared morally boycotted and outlawed and should be cut off from the rest of the empire, unless they immediately withdraw their defiance of the provisional government," says the minister. He added that the men in the town and fortress could be easily coerced into submission, but the members of the cabinet prefer to rely upon the universal reprobation of Russia, the effect of which, the cabinet believes, will bring the extremists to reason.

Led by Young Student
The details of the counter-revolution at Kronstadt show that it has been engineered by a group of young fanatics who believe that each section of the country should exercise sole control over its destinies, with only a loosely-knit central council at Petrograd. The leader of the insurrection in Anskole, Lamanoff, who is being hailed by his comrades as a hero who has dared throw off the yoke of the provisional government. He is a chemistry student, fired with anarchistic ideals.

MOONEY JURY STILL NEEDS FOUR TALESMEN

(Associated Press, U. S. Naval Communication Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., June 4.—A special venire of one hundred for jury service in connection with the trial of Mrs. Mooney, the alleged dynamiter, will report this morning, from amongst whom will be selected the four yet needed to complete the panel. Night jurymen have been accepted and sworn in.

The attorneys on both sides expect to have the jury complete and the trial well under way by the middle of the week.

Lopez says he found Silva upstairs in a house at the corner of Waiakae road and Kapahuu street.

AUSTRIANS SUFFER IMMENSE LOSSES

(Associated Press by U. S. Naval Communication Service)

NEW YORK, N. Y., June 4.—According to the claims of the Italian commanders at the front, the Austrian losses during the last two weeks in May on the Trieste front totaled in killed, wounded and taken prisoners no fewer than eighty-five thousand men. The Italian losses were very many fewer, while most important gains on the road to the Istrian city were made.

The Italian offensive on the Trieste front has slackened, the advanced troops being halted to consolidate the gains.
